Planning & Economic Development:

Planning

- Community Development staff met with Wasatch Front Regional Council staff to discuss their upcoming TLC grant. After the meeting, we are optimistic that, if awarded, the grant can be used to fund a General Plan update. Based on the parameters of the grant, we anticipate being able to utilize existing department funds for the match portion of the grant.
- Agendas and reports were sent to the Architectural Review Commission for the 8/22/18 ARC meeting:
 - 3 monument signs in the Gateway Overlay District; Denny's exterior remodel
- New applications were received for conditional use permits in existing buildings, and an amended subdivision plat. These will require planning commission approval.
- Staff is developing workflow improvements for project management utilizing existing software in a creative way.
- Staff met with GSBS Architects and VCBO Architects (also members of the ARC) to kick-off a gravel pit design visioning exercise. Their plan is to gather preliminary feedback and information beginning in September, and schedule design workshops and meetings subsequent to that.

Economic Development

- Staff attended the Utah Business Licensing Association Conference in Bryce Canyon last week to stay up-to-date on licensing and regulatory changes. The topics included food truck regulation, massage and day spa enforcement, tobacco specialty businesses and the upcoming cannabis products, alcohol licensing updates, short term rentals, cottage licenses and the new Direct to Consumer Food Products act.
- Economic Development staff celebrated the grand opening of the Children's Academy preschool (picture below).
- Interviews for the Business Development Specialist position are scheduled for Monday, August 20th.

City Council:

(Tali Bruce)

Of all the Historic Committees in the State, our CH Committee was selected to present at the September 27th "Preservation Utah Conference". The State has asked our group to teach the members how to organize and maintain such a successful Committee.

Some of the things that attribute to their success:

- Active communication with the Council
- Trustworthy: They say what they're going to do and do what they say
- Consistent, persistent effort
- Relationships with staff that create win/win scenarios
- Lean on the State Historic Co resources
- Selective process for screening new Committee members; seeking certain skill sets
- Ongoing training

The Historic Committee is tentatively planning on an Oct 2nd Social with the Council

Ch2 Meeting 8/15/18

Monster Mash is planned for October. Considering a change to a Monday evening activity rather than the Friday, after school as in the past.

Bark in the Park is Sep 15th 10AM-1pm. There will be free hot dogs (100) and snocones. It's always a fun event

Late July, someone damaged 30 sprinkler heads at Mountview Park.

The last portion of 2700 E will be treated on August 28th. While this after school will have started, the work can be completed after school starts in the morning, and finished up before school lets out for the day.

August 20th is the CHRC Foundation Golf Tournament

CHRC Foundation will also be doing a drink/aid station during the REVEL Marathon on Sept 8th

Also, the new dive platform at the outdoor pool has been attracting 'night time divers'/kids who climb the fence and jump off. PD has responded to calls

Butlerville Days Meeting 8/15/18

Ann will be at council meeting next week for a more comprehensive report. Here are a few highlights.

Discussion on changing the parade route (from Smith's on Bengal and west) and the time (11AM) possibly starting next year. A sub committee is looking into it.

There was also discussion on the original intent of having Butlerville Days and what kind of event the city wants. This centered around opening up the event as a public forum, rather keeping it a family friendly and community focused event. There was agreement that having politicking on the field changed the character and feel of the event. BVDays was bigger this year.

The Carnival had a good run. Even though there were only about 2/3 of the total rides there, a big Monday night meant that they contributed >$13,000 to BVDays. Their contracted minimum was $9,000.

Also the stage director is about out of 'favors' to obtain head liner entertainment on the current budget. We may need to evaluate that next year in the overall budget.

The excavation is nearing the bottom level in many locations and footings have been formed and poured at the North end of the project. The footing locations have been painted out on the earth for the South end of the project.
